Wrinkles and the Therapy Puppies: A Story of Helping Others Dona Engh Yates

Wrinkles is a therapy dog and lonely at the moment because she's not working. She decides to go to the puppy store and 'orders' some puppies to train to also be therapy dogs. Some of the puppy parts get mixed up and one of the pups has green ears! Although different from the rest of the pups, the puppy with the green ears attracts a special friend.

This tale of fitting in and helping others will show children that being different is not so bad after all. First-time author, Dona Engh Yates, works with therapy dogs and pens a charming children's tale about helping others. Included are facts about therapy dogs and the wonderful work they do to help Veterans, the elderly, handicapped people and children with special needs. Excellent book to start a discussion and research on these very special canine companions to those in need.

David Fern:

As a college student exactly feel bored to help reading. If their teacher asked them to go to the library or to make summary for some book, they are complained. Just minor students that has reading's spirit or real their passion. They just do what the instructor want, like asked to go to the library. They go to at this time there but nothing reading significantly. Any students feel that reading is not important, boring along with can't see colorful pictures on there. Yeah, it is to become complicated. Book is very important for yourself. As we know that on this age, many ways to get whatever we wish. Likewise word says, many ways to reach Chinese's country. Therefore this Wrinkles and the Therapy Puppies: A Story of Helping Others can make you sense more interested to read.
