The First Sino–Japanese War (1 August 1894 – 17 April 1895) was fought between Qing Dynasty China and Meiji Japan, primarily over control of Korea. After more than six months of continuous successes by the Japanese army and naval forces, as well as the loss of the Chinese port of Weihai, the Qing leadership sued for peace in February 1895. In this fictionalized account, the adventures of the protagonist are set against the backdrop of the war between Japan and China. Henry Frith was an English writer of boys' adventure novels in the late 19th century.
