The Boy Allies With Haig in Flanders, or the Fighting Canadians of Vimy Ridge (Classic Reprint)

Clair W. Hayes

The rain fell in torrents over the great battlefield, as Hal Paine and Chester Crawford, taking advantage of the inky blackness of the night, crept from the shelter of the American trenches that faced the enemy across No Man s Land. In the trenches themselves all was silence. To a spectator it would have seemed that the occupants were either dead or asleep; yet such was not the case. It is true that most of the men had turned in for the night, sleeping on their arms, for there was no means of telling at what moment the enemy might issue from his trenches in another of the night raids that had marked this particular sector for the last few weeks; but the ever vigilant sentinels stood watch over the sleeping men.
